Big Things Small Purses!

We don't advertise a few things at half cost and ask one hundred per cent. on everything else, but sell everything at uniformly low prices. That's our way.

Without the imputation of egotism or Semetic cheek, we may be permitted to say that our goods are bought for as little, or less, money than the same qualities are bought by anyone, and that they are selected with as great discretion, and with as ample a knowledge of the wants of this trade as long experience and ripe judgment will warrant. Hence our customers take no risk.

Our fidelity to the interests and tastes of our trade is constantly shown by a very large and increasing patronage, and we can assure all who may come to this market to trade that we have not abated one jot or one tittle from our former interest, but, on the contrary, in the prospective return of more propitious times, we have put forth our very best efforts, and are prepared with one of the best selections and by far the best values it has ever been our pleasure to show.

It is not merely having the largest store in this section, the most varied and comprehensive collection of merchandise that keeps us busy every day we are open, but the exceedingly modest profit we put on our goods.

Your inspection is cordially solicited.
